Last Sunday AM

Elder Charles Hoskins preached using Acts chapter 3. Peter and John were used by God to heal a crippled man. We need to be used in faith as they were. When people saw the crippled man walking and praising God, they were filled with wonder and amazement. We need to notice that when people need help, they attach themselves to those who are used of God. We need to keep our minds set on being used of God by praying and fasting. Then we will see a harvest of souls. We need to be believers. Peter and John stood firm on what they believed. They spoke with boldness proclaiming that this man was healed by the name of Jesus Christ. We need to stand for the name of Jesus Christ. We have to claim the blood and promises of Jesus. We need Holy Ghost boldness to preach and witness God's Word. "And when they had prayed, the place was shaken..." (Acts 4:31). Let us pray and fast to see people healed, to see souls saved, and to see forces of evil broken in lives today.

Sunday PM

Pastor Joseph preached "World Without End" using Isaiah 45:17 & Ephesians 3:14-21. "But Israel shall be saved in the Lord with an everlasting salvation..." (Isaiah 45:17). Israel was God's chosen people. We who have been born again of the water and the Spirit are now "fellowheirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel." The Gentiles now have a promise of salvation. We must clean out our well of salvation by cleansing ourselves of all filthiness of the flesh and spirit. We must put off the old man and become a new creature in Christ Jesus. You must have a relationship with Him and be changed. Let Him help you cleanse yourself of addictions. You may think, "I can do it by myself." Not so! You can never conquer your carnal nature without God's help. We must be strengthened with might by His spirit in the inner man, as we put off the old man and put on the new man.

Wednesday

Missionary Shawn Turner and family were with us, and they ministered powerfully. They are missionaries to Turkey. They are back in the US traveling to raise support so they can return and continue their mission efforts. The sooner their budget is raised the sooner they can return home. Some from our church took them on as Partners In Missions, pledging both prayer and financial support. Sister Turner and their 13-year-old daughter sang a song, part in English and part in Turkish. Brother Turner preached from Acts 2:38-39. Regarding the verse that says, "For the promise is unto you and to your children..." he stressed that we ought to view that as a promise to us and to our own children. The God who worked miracles by the hands of the Apostles back during the first century is the same yesterday, today and forever. He still pours out His Spirit, and He still grants miracles today. Every single Muslim that they have seen converted has had either a powerful vision or dream in which they saw the Lord Himself!

The teacher advised the class that each school day starts with the Pledge of Allegiance, and she instructed them to put their right hand over their heart and repeat after her. She looked around the room as she started the recitation, "I pledge allegiance to the flag..." Her eyes were drawn to Andy, who had his hand over the right side of his behind. "Andy, we cannot continue until you put your hand over your heart," she demanded. Andy looked up and replied, "It is over my heart." After several more attempts to get Andy to put his hand over his heart, the teacher inquired, "Why do you think that is your heart, Andy?" "Well," he answered, "because every time my Grandma comes to visit, she pats me there and says, 'Bless your little heart,' and my Grandma never lies."
Nicholas took his four-year-old son, Bryan, to several baseball games where "The Star-Spangled Banner" was sung before the start of each game. Later, Nicholas and Bryan attended church on the Sunday before Independence Day. The congregation sang "The Star-Spangled Banner," and after everyone sat down, Bryan suddenly yelled out at the top of his voice, "Play ball!"

Cool facts as we celebrate Independence Day!

As we celebrate this great day, please consider the following facts you may not have known:

During the American Revolution, the legal separation of the American colonies from Great Britain occurred on July 2, 1776, when the Second Continental Congress voted to approve a resolution of independence that had been proposed in June of that year by Richard Henry Lee of Virginia. After voting for independence, Congress turned its attention to the Declaration of Independence, a statement explaining this decision, which had been prepared by a Committee of Five, with Thomas Jefferson as its principal author. Congress debated and revised the Declaration, finally approving it on July 4, 1776. A day earlier, John Adams had written to his wife Abigail:

"The second day of July, 1776, will be the most memorable epoch in the history of America. I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward forever more."

Adams' prediction was off by two days. From the outset, Americans celebrated independence on July 4, the date shown on the much-publicized Declaration of Independence, rather than on July 2, the date the resolution of independence was approved in a closed session of Congress.

One of the most enduring myths about Independence Day is that Congress signed the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. The myth had become so firmly established that, decades after the event and nearing the end of their lives, even the elderly Thomas Jefferson and John Adams had come to believe that they and the other delegates had signed the Declaration on the fourth. Most delegates actually signed the Declaration on August 2, 1776. In a remarkable series of coincidences, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson, two founding fathers of the United States and the only two signers of the Declaration of Independence that went on to become president, both died on the same day: July 4, 1826, which was the United States' 50th anniversary.
