Sunday AM

Bro. Ashley Vaughn preached "Creating a Manger" from Romans 1:16-20. God doesn't change. He's the same as He was from the beginning, when He spoke the cosmos into existence. Today He's the same God for us as the wise men saw at the time of Christ's first appearance. God spoke the world (waters, earth, moon, stars, planets, animals, and mankind) into existence. He only had to speak one time and it happened. Over the generations of time, His creation still upheld by the initial act of creation by God. God is very stable, and His creative power lasts for eternity. What He speaks into existence maintains its assigned attributes without any need for God to recreate it later. No one has to tell the grass to grow. It just grows. That which God created just simply keeps performing. God made man from the dust of the earth and breathed into his nostrils and man became a living soul. We ought to live a good, godly, dedicated life. The same air that Adam breathed, we breathe today. The same air that Moses breathed, we breathe today. Nothing new has been needed from the very beginning. Seek God for your needs. He'll help us make the right decision. We need to commit our soul and our life to God. He created cows to walk around on four legs. He created birds to fly out of their nest. He created man to live a life devoted to Him. Jesus Christ was born. He was God robed in flesh. He had created Himself a manger so man could be saved.

Wednesday

Jr. Elder Caleb Colombo preached "From a Spirit of Saul To a Spirit of Paul" from Acts 9:1-9. We shouldn't persecute our friends and church family over nonessential preferences. We walk by faith and not by sight. Life would be so much easier if we would give our situations to God and trust Him. Paul went from persecuting Christians to preaching God's Word and starting churches. We need more outreach in the church. We need to have Paul's spirit of praise.
 Elder Hannah Sandy preached "The Marshmallow Test" from Proverbs 16:32, 25:28. Impulse control is so important. Being able to control how we respond and react to situations is critical. Our self-control is so important in our relationship with God. We need to discipline ourselves and follow God's plan for our life. If we control ourselves and are obedient to God now, it will be worth it all.

As in many homes on New Year's Day, Matt and Madison, a happily married couple, faced the annual conflict of which was more important: the football match on television, or the lunch itself. Hoping to keep the peace Matt ate lunch with the rest of the family, and even lingered for some pleasant after-lunch chat before retiring to the lounge to turn on the television. Some minutes later, Madison looked in to see how he was and graciously even bought him a cold Sprite. She smiled, kissed him on the cheek and asked what the score was. Matt told her that it was half time and the score was still 0-0. "See?" Madison said happily, "You didn't miss a thing."
